

Greater One-Horned Rhino

Did you know that Rhino horn is made from the same material as your skin and hair? Imagine being hunted for your hair!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 75 |
| Habitat Loss | 63 |
| Live Capture | 3 |
| Pollution | 4 |
| Invaders | 34 |

Western Chimpanzee

Did you know chimpanzees can use a wide variety of objects around them as tools? These great apes are very intelligent.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 57 |
| Habitat Loss | 92 |
| Live Capture | 34 |
| Pollution | 12 |
| Invaders | 23 |

Sun Bear

Did you know sun bear tongues can reach a whopping 25cm long? They use it to extract honey and insects from inside trees.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 78 |
| Habitat Loss | 77 |
| Live Capture | 87 |
| Pollution | 15 |
| Invaders | 1 |

Giant Anteater

Did you know giant anteaters have no teeth? They use their long sticky tongues to pick up lots of ants and termites.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 43 |
| Habitat Loss | 68 |
| Live Capture | 11 |
| Pollution | 54 |
| Invaders | 11 |

Northern Rockhopper Penguin

Did you know our rockhoppers are the smallest species of penguin at Edinburgh Zoo? What they lack in size they make up for in attitude!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 63 |
| Habitat Loss | 14 |
| Live Capture | 13 |
| Pollution | 56 |
| Invaders | 50 |

Red Panda

Did you know red pandas have a special wrist bone that acts like a sixth digit? This false thumb helps them hold the bamboo they eat!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 34 |
| Habitat Loss | 79 |
| Live Capture | 12 |
| Pollution | 11 |
| Invaders | 13 |

Giant Panda

Did you know an adult giant panda is roughly 900 times bigger than a new-born cub? Their babies have a lot of growing to do!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 12 |
| Habitat Loss | 75 |
| Live Capture | 9 |
| Pollution | 34 |
| Invaders | 11 |

Grevy's Zebra

Did you know there are lots of theories for why zebras have stripes? One theory is that when in a group, the stripes might confuse predators.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 45 |
| Habitat Loss | 81 |
| Live Capture | 1 |
| Pollution | 15 |
| Invaders | 44 |

Asiatic Lion

Did you know Asiatic lions are only active for about 4 hours a day? They spend the rest of their time sleeping or relaxing.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 45 |
| Habitat Loss | 81 |
| Live Capture | 1 |
| Pollution | 15 |
| Invaders | 44 |

Sumatran Tiger

Did you know the Sumatran tiger is the smallest tiger species? Smaller bodies help them keep cool and move through the trees in the Rainforest.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 54 |
| Habitat Loss | 94 |
| Live Capture | 21 |
| Pollution | 13 |
| Invaders | 9 |

Red Squirrel

Did you know red squirrels don't hibernate? In winter they rely on food they have buried and can find their supplies in the snow!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 12 |
| Habitat Loss | 47 |
| Live Capture | 29 |
| Pollution | 11 |
| Invaders | 75 |

Northern Lynx

Did you know the tufts on the lynx's ears might help their hearing? It is thought they act like antennae to help locate prey.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 54 |
| Habitat Loss | 52 |
| Live Capture | 19 |
| Pollution | 15 |
| Invaders | 11 |

European Wildcat

Did you know wildcats are critically endangered in Scotland? Populations of the wildcats in the rest of Europe are much safer.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 34 |
| Habitat Loss | 61 |
| Live Capture | 12 |
| Pollution | 8 |
| Invaders | 76 |

Snow Leopard

Did you know snow leopards have their own snow shoes? Their wide furry feet keep them warm and help them to walk over snow without sinking!

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 74 |
| Habitat Loss | 71 |
| Live Capture | 34 |
| Pollution | 31 |
| Invaders | 14 |

Polar Bear

Did you know polar bear fur is not actually white? They have two layers of clear fur that looks white to us and keeps them nice and warm.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 54 |
| Habitat Loss | 53 |
| Live Capture | 7 |
| Pollution | 94 |
| Invaders | 11 |

Japanese Macaque

Did you know Japanese macaques sometimes bathe in hot springs to escape the cold? Monkeys in the Nagano mountains like a hot bath.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 21 |
| Habitat Loss | 9 |
| Live Capture | 19 |
| Pollution | 3 |
| Invaders | 20 |

Wolverine

Did you know wolverines have oily fur? This means it repels water and wont freeze when the wolverine is in really cold conditions.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 43 |
| Habitat Loss | 21 |
| Live Capture | 9 |
| Pollution | 13 |
| Invaders | 9 |

Capercaillie

Did you know the capercaillie makes some very strange sounds? The knife-grinding and cork-popping sounds are heard when males call for a mate.

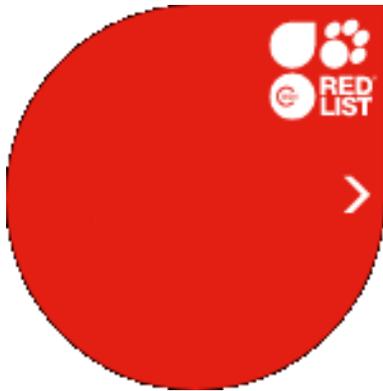

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 43 |
| Habitat Loss | 64 |
| Live Capture | 8 |
| Pollution | 22 |
| Invaders | 12 |

Arctic Fox

Did you know
Arctic foxes change colour
in the summer?
When the snow melts, their white coat turns gray to blend in with the rocks.

| | |
|--------------|----|
| Overhunting | 45 |
| Habitat Loss | 22 |
| Live Capture | 18 |
| Pollution | 24 |
| Invaders | 13 |

Overhunting

Habitat Loss

Live Capture

Pollution

Invaders