

What is the main threat to the ring tailed lemur?

Answer: habitat loss

What do the ring tailed lemurs eat?

Answer: fruit, leaves, flowers, bark, insects and small animals

Do ring tailed lemurs live alone or in groups?

Answer: They live in large groups.

How many babies do ring tailed lemurs have at a time?

Answer: They usually have one baby at a time but sometimes there can be twins.

Is the ring tailed lemur found mainly on the ground or up in the trees?

Answer: They are mainly found on the ground.

What is special about the ring tailed lemur's thumbs and big toes?

Answer: The thumbs and big toes are opposable. This means their thumbs and big toes are able to grip.

Is the leader of a group of ring tailed lemurs a male or a female?

Answer: The leader is a female. Females are more dominant over the males in the group.

What habitat does the ring tailed lemur live in?

Answer: They can live in dry forests, rainforests and scrublands.

The ring tailed lemur is famous for its stripy tail. How do you say 'stripy tail' in French?

Answer: une queue rayée

The ring tailed lemur's tail is black and white. How do you say 'black and white' in French?

Answer: noir et blanc

The ring tailed lemur is mostly a grey colour. How do you say 'grey' in French?

Answer: gris

The ring tailed lemur has five fingers. How do you say 'five' in French?

Answer: cinq

The ring tailed lemur lives in Madagascar. How do you say 'Madagascar' in French?

Answer: Madagascar

The ring tailed lemur has nails except for the second toe which has a claw. How do you say 'nail' and how do you say 'claw' in French?

Answer: nail - l'ongle; claw - la griffe

The ring tailed lemur has opposable thumbs and big toes. How do you say 'thumb' and how do you say 'big toe' in French?

Answer: thumb - le pouce; big toe - le gros orteil

The ring tailed lemur has big eyes. How do you say 'eyes' in French?

Answer: les yeux