Giant Pandemonium - How to Play

Downloads required – Giant Pandemonium game board; question cards; bamboo cards; zookeeper & giant panda counters.

Other requirements – dice

- Each player chooses a role: either a zookeeper or a giant panda.
- The zookeepers are given 3 bundles of bamboo each.
- There is also a store of bamboo which contains another 6 bundles.
- Players take turns rolling the dice and moving their counters along the pathway on the board.

A zookeeper's aim is to feed the pandas by landing on the same space as them.

Pandas aim to reach their enclosure safely with enough bamboo.

- When a player lands on a question mark space, another player in the team asks them a question on the question cards. (This is because the answers are at the bottom, so a different person has to ask them.)

If the player answers correctly and they are a panda, they get a bundle of bamboo from the store.

If the player answers correctly and they are a zookeeper, they give away a bundle of bamboo to the store.

If the player answers incorrectly, nothing happens.

- If a zookeeper lands on the same space as a giant panda, the panda is given a bundle of bamboo from the zookeeper.
- The game ends when one or more of the giant pandas reach their enclosure at the end of the pathway.

Winning the game:

For the giant pandas: the panda with the most bamboo to reach the panda enclosure is the winner.

For the zookeepers: the zookeeper who has given away the most bamboo is also a winner.
